

Alan Savage

Alan Savage is head of R&D with Watheroo Minerals Group, a clay mining company with mines at Watheroo in Northern Wheatbelt of WA. He has a background in agriculture and microbiology, and more recently with seed biology and seed delivery systems for native seeds in the arid zones of Western Australia. We are working with Kings Park Botanic Gardens and UWA on collaborative project looking at improved outcomes for revegetation in Western Australia.